CRONIN MYSTERY. The Grand Jury Examining Witnesses-Several Give Their Testimony. CHICAGO, June 13th .- The Grand Jury resumed its investigation in the Cronin case at noon to-day. The first witness was Mrs. Conklin. The bloody trunk was then taken to the jury room. Mrs. Conklin's testimony was mainly on the question of who drove the white horse, and from her de-scription it is thought Dinan and his host-

THE CLAN-NA-GAEL.

The Executive Committee Anxious About Maroney. NEW YORK, June 13th.-The Mail and Express this evening says: A detective from the Scotland Yard stood on Chambers street west of the County Court-house today for over two hours. He had his eye on No. 291 Broadway, which is the office of David M. Neuberger, counsel for J. . Maroney, who is accused of complicity in the murder of Dr. Cronin. Major Rudolph Fitzpatrick, of No. 147 West Sixty-third street, who was Adjutant General in the Fenian army that invaded Canada, is one of the men willing to swear that Maroney was in his place the day Cronin was mur dered. Fitzpatrick has an English wife who is an ardent supporter of Irish aspirations. Fitzpatrick and his wife are relied upon as two who will help establish an alibi for Maroney. An attempt to prove the prisoner's innocence will not stop with E. J. Rowe, an ex-Clan-na-Gael man.

He is Wanted for Complicity in the Cronin Murder. WASHINGTON, June 18th .- A deputy from nicago this afternoon states that Tom smond, the Irish Nationalist and a mem er of the Clan-na-Gael, and well known on the Pacific slope, is wanted for comlicity in the Cronin murder. Desmond is present in Washington, where he has been, according to his own statement, since the 21st of May. When shown the dispatch from Chicago, he went immediately o the police station and offered to surren-der himself, but as the officers would no arrest him he left his address and said he was willing to go to Chicago at any time.

While in Washington Desmond has nade no secret of his whereabouts and ha met nearly all the reminent Irishmen in the city. Desmond says both he and Mc-Donald, who was arrested in New York, were in New York on the day Cronin was murdered. Thomas H. They Disappear from the Counter of Mr. Marks' Store. Yesterday a couple of honest-looking youths, whose appearance indicated a recent acquaintance with the harvest field dropped into the store of Henry Marks, at 414 K street, and expressed a desire to make where they were hidden from view by his and have proved beneficial. With the overcoat, slung carelessly over them As the young men were about to depart, Mr. Marks' suspicions were aroused by the sudden and abnormal growth on the fel-low's shoulder and he concluded to stay by him for awhile. Not that he had any affection for the fellow, but he hated the thought of so suddenly parting with any of would certainly help to lessen the number his goods that might be under that overcoat. So he invited them to cross the street and have a cigar, meanwhile endeavoring to penetrate the mystery of that

But it was no go-the overcoat completely hid whatever was there, and the proprietor of the store returned—some what "mechanically"-to his place of business. Not satisfied still, he went out and followed the pair into a saloon, but after he got there he was afraid to tackle them, so he went out to look for an officer. Meantime the fellows got out of sight. Marks, on taking an account of stock, found that he was out just half a dozen pairs of pants, and after searching several second-hand stores recovered four of them. Captain's Crookedness. SACRAMENTO AND STOCKTON'S RACE Guards, felt highly incensed yesterday at Captain Sims Emory, of the Zouave an article which appeared in an afternoon paper intimating that he had collected money in the name of the company and appropriated it to his personal uses. The Captain's blood boiled with indignation that he should have been thus accused of crookedness in connection with the mili> thoroughly. The facts, as set forth, are as follows: In January last a Committee on Solicitation was appointed by the Captain, who is the presiding officer of the organization, to solicit funds for the purchase of uniforms. This committee consisted of I. Sanks, W. Coger, A. Walton, A. Grubbs, R. C. Ferguson, T. N. Ray and Captain S. Emory. Aside from the Captain, the committee did no work in the captain, the committee did no work in the committee did no work in the committee did no work in the committee. mittee did no work in the task set for it. The Captain collected from various sources about $400. The collections were concluded about two weeks ago, Captain Emory recording all the receipts in a subscription book carried for the purpose. About this time dissensions arose among the members of the company regarding trivial matters, and several of the disaffected members sought to create trouble in the organization. An accounting was demanded in th matter of moneys collected for the company, when the Captain found that the subscription book had been lost. He then made out from memory a list of the subscribers, with the amounts donated This list, as reported to the company, represents $352 50. The Captain says that he collected $400, and that the difference represents various amounts from different parties which he cannot remember. This would leave a balance of $47 50 due the the company over and above what was acounted for. The Captain paid out, for the ompany's expenses, $278 90, leaving a palance of $73 60 from the amount of funds collected. This amount, with the $47 50 balance, makes $121 10, which the Captain owes the company to date. Jim for the past month has been em ployed by Mrs. Johnstone at the above number. This morning she had some words with him about the washing, and lim, becoming enraged, packed up his things and said he was going to leave. He was told to do as he pleased about it, and, taking his bundle, went as far as the wood shed, where he glumly sat down and moped for a short time. At length he got up, and coming to the door, said he had left a pai of shoes behind, and demanded that he be permitted to hunt for them. This was re-used him, and he tried to force his way Mrs. Johnstone was at the door, and Ah Jim attempted to strike her. In order to prevent this she fell back a step or two, and the Chinaman, getting inside of the door, seized a large, keen carving knife that was lying on the table.

By this time Miss Ella Fenner, a sister of Mrs. Johnstone, had come to her assistance, and as the brutish heathen raised hand to shield her sister. The descending blade caught her on the right arm and in the arm. Miss Fenner ran out of the front door, pursued by the Chinaman, who was wildly lunging with the carving knife. The accused had already been married fourteen times. The father of the child sold her for rs. 20 a month. She was seen on the Policeman Wells and Coughlein arrested parapet of a house greatly agitated and him and booked him at the New City Hall | threatening to throw herself down into the for assault to murder. The young lady's street. When a policeman entered the house she stated that her husband had beaten her and threatened to kill her if she failed to undo a knot in his hair within five days. Eventually the accused was acquitted, as the evidence was deemed inufficient to prove habitual cruelty. The facts of this case still further illustrate the niquitous cruelty of the existing practice of child marriage, and show the imperious necessity, in the interests of common humanity, of an early reform of Hindoo marlage customs.

QUITE UP TO THE TIMES. New Applicant—Do I know how to use Sapolio? Well, that's fresh! Do I look like a girl that don't know about Sapolio? Am I blind, d'yer think, or can't read? Why, the babies on the block know all about Sapolio.

What are ye givin' me? SAPOLIO is a solid, handsome cake of House-cleaning Soap, which has no equal for all scouring purposes, except the laundry. Perhaps you have heard of it a thousand times without using it once. If you will reverse the posi-tion and use it once you will praise it to others a thousand times. Ask your Grocer for a cake, and try it in your next house-
